NB.

1. Estimate the total number of players you expect at your club for next year (using last year's figures is a good place to start).
2. Estimate your income and expenditure for next year in the categories listed in the spaces provided (use figures from your last year's audited AGM financial report).
3. Subtract estimated total income from estimated total expenditure.
4. Divide the arrived at figure by your estimated total number of players for next season.
5. That figure then becomes your clubs component of your registration fees.
6. You may wish to make minor adjustments to the fee structure between the three groups of players.
